Carried Into Mausoleum

The casket containing the body of Elvis Presley is carried into the mausoleum of Forest Hill Cemetery in Memphis, Tenn., Thursday during services for the singer. He died Tuesday of a heart attack (AP).

Thousands Line Path Of Presley Procession

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Ten white Cadillacs led Elvis Presley's funeral procession out the gates of his mansion Thursday and thousands of mourners burst into tears at the sight of his coffin.

"He's gone, he's gone," sobbed a woman in the crowd of 6,000 standing across the street from Graceland Mansion, where earlier in the day two young women were killed and a third injured by a hit-and-run driver.

Presley's funeral brings back memories of similar crowds of mourners who turned out by the thousands for the funeral of Rudolph Valentino, the great silent screen lover, who died 51 years ago. See Page 35.

Three motorcycle policemen roared through the wrought iron gates of the mansion at 4:28 p.m. EDT — considerably behind schedule — to lead the 49-car procession the four miles from Graceland to the mausoleum where the king of rock 'n' roll was laid to rest.

Behind the lead motorcycles came a Cadillac bearing Vernon Presley, his father, and behind that the white hearse carrying the undraped coffin.

Behind the hearse rode his divorced wife Priscilla, her face red beneath her veil,

'Sam' Report Spurs Furor

NEW YORK (UPI) — A pretrial probation report on David Berkowitz after he was arrested and charged as the "Son of Sam" murderer last week recommended that he be freed without bail pending trial, it was disclosed Thursday.

The report, by the Pre-trial Services Agency, was obtained and released to reporters by Mayor Abraham D. Beame, who said he was "infuriated" when he learned of the recommendation.

Despite the report, Brooklyn Administraclutching their 9-year-old daughter Lisa Marie to her breast.

"We love you, Elvis," screamed a woman. Hundreds burst into tears as they raced for their cars to follow the procession, which rolled down Elvis Presley Boulevard about 20 miles an hour.

Memphis Police Director Buddy Chapman estimated the crowd outside the mansion at 6,000 and said there were many more lining the route in small groups.

Throughout the day cars whipped in and out the gates, bringing stars from the jet set and show business.

Ann-Margret, Bob Hope, Burt Reynolds, John Wayne, Chet Atkins, Charlie Pride and George Hamilton were among the 150 invited, a family spokesman said.

Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis and her daughter Caroline came to the mansion Wednesday night to pay their respects, said Frank Esposito, brother of Presley's road manager, but did not stay for the private funeral.

An estimated 80,000 mourners, many sobbing and

Hale Expected To Get Common Pleas Post

Atty. Robert J. Hale of Glastonbury, a career man in the state tax department, is expected to be named a Common Pleas Court Judge in the next few days, when Gov. Grasso announces a group of judicial appointments.

Hale would succeed Judge David H. Jacobs of Meriden, who has been advanced to the Superior Court.

Hale, who is the first assistant state tax commissioner, has been in the department for 27 years.

Common Pleas Court Judge Francis R. Quinn of Jewett City is expected to be advanced shortly by Gov. Grasso to the Superior Court bench.

He would succeed Judge John M. Alexander of Windsor, who is retiring in mid-September.

To succeed Judge Quinn on the Common Pleas Court bench, Gov. Grasso is expected to name a Republican, former State Rep. Albert W. Cretella Jr. of North Haven.

believe was the fastest bathtub in the world through Marlboro, N.J., early Wednesday after setting a speed record of 40 miles in 14 hours.

The men left the Empire State Building pushing their bathtub on wheels at 1:53 p.m. Tuesday and were on Rt. 79 near here about 7:30 a.m. Wednesday. The old record, according to the Guinness Book of World Records, was 36 miles in 24 hours, set by a group of Scouts in England in May 1975.

The New Yorkers, who take five-minute breaks every hour, were hoping to set a new distance record of 150 miles by reaching Atlantic City late Thursday.

The bathtub pushers are Tom Taffe, 19, of Buffalo State College, James Stapleton, 22, of John Jay College of Criminal Justice, and Glenn Kaiser, 22, and Kenny Conroy, both of City University of New York (AP).
